Easter Work Experience Opportunity

Future Medical Student,

Due to demand we have opened up five additional work experience placement opportunities for aspiring medics. Students aged 16-19 can join our two week hospital work experience camp based at Project India over Easter 2016.

Here is what is included in our project:

- 50 hours hospital work experience
- Medical school interview training
- Structured clinical examination training
- Personal mentorship
- A personal development portfolio
- All accommodation, food and in-country transport
- Supervised 24/7 by Medical Projects staff

Our medical camp runs for two weeks during the Easter Half Term to ensure you do not miss any school time. We have spaces for the following dates:

- 27th March - 10th April 2016 (5 new spaces available)

For more information or to book one of the remaining places please visit:

www.medicalprojects.co.uk/work-experience.

Medical Projects is a limited company registered in England and Wales No. 09436506
Overseas hospital work experience for aspiring doctors, nurses and midwives

Yours sincerely,

Values Focus of the Week

GENEROSITY = GIVING

Each of us has personal strengths that can make a difference in the world we live in. It can make a difference in one's family, among friends, in school, in the community, in our country.

Generosity means GIVING - the voluntary giving of comfort, time, support, money or other help to people in need. To be truly giving a person gives for the sake of making someone's life better.

Each one of us has an impact on the other, and we all have something important to give and how we give it makes a difference to the community.

There are different types of giving:

TIME:

Set aside a few minutes a day to help, support, advise, listen to those who may need your help.

KINDNESS:

Show generosity in your thoughts as well as in your acts of kindness and actions towards others. Stand up for those unable to protect or defend themselves.

FINANCIAL:

Give money to a cause or charity you believe in. Giving financial support to help organisations support and /or charities carry out their missions and goals.

Generosity is a way for us to help others, but in the course of helping we are given a gift as well. The gift, the joy of giving, is more special than what we gave away.

THIS WEEK'S GOLDEN WORDS

Life is a boomerang. What you give. You get.

What is a digital footprint or tattoo?

It's a digital record of everything you've ever put online. This could include:

- Comments, likes or tweets on social media
- Facebook status updates or posts
- Photos you share
- Blog posts
- Videos and vlogs
- Public profiles on websites

Even if you delete any one of these, they may still be out there - either saved or shared by others, or kept by the website or app itself.

Why is it important?

Your digital footprint is your online reputation. As we now spend so much of our time in online spaces, your online reputation is just as important as it is in the real world. Often, it's somebody's first impression of you - it's not uncommon for someone to google you before they meet you - perhaps before a job interview.

First impressions count, so you want your digital footprint to be positive, and to represent the best side of you; free of any potentially embarrassing or negative content.

Self-esteem means having a good opinion of yourself and feeling good about yourself as a person.

People with self-esteem:

- feel valued and accepted by others
- feel worthy of being treated with fairness and respect
- accept and respect themselves, even when they make mistakes
- believe in themselves, even when they don't succeed at first
- see their own good qualities, such as being kind, capable, or fun to be around
- take pride in the things they do, like passing a difficult Maths test or mastering a new skill
- think positively about themselves

Low self-esteem means having a lower opinion of yourself, and feeling inadequate, inferior, or not deserving of good things. People with low self-esteem:

- focus on the times they fail rather than the times they succeed
- feel self-critical and are hard on themselves
- feel insecure or inferior
- think of themselves as defective or not deserving of good things
- expect other people won't accept them and may allow themselves to be treated badly by others
- doubt their ability to do well or succeed at things
- think negatively about themselves

Having self-esteem matters.

It can affect almost everything we do. Self-esteem helps us have good relationships with others, gives us the confidence to try new things, and helps us succeed. Low self-esteem holds us back and interferes with our relationships, success, and happiness.

Christmas in Spain

En España la gente cree en los Reyes Magos. Los Reyes Magos llegan a España con los regalos el día 5 de enero por la noche. Los Reyes Magos viajan en camellos. En todas las ciudades hay una cabalgata donde los Reyes Magos tiran caramelos a la gente. La gente abre los regalos el día 6 de enero.

In Spain people believe in the Three Wise Men. The Three Wise Men arrive in Spain with presents the night of the 5th of January. The Three Wise Men travel by camels. In every city in Spain there is a float parade in which the Three Wise Men throw sweets into the crowd. People open their presents on the 6th of January.

St. Nicholas Day in Germany

St. Nicholas Day is celebrated in Germany on the 6th of December. Celebrations include gifts left in children's shoes. Children put a shoe outside their bedroom door or in front of the fire place on the eve of St. Nicholas day, and hope to find sweets, coins or maybe a small gift in them when they wake. If, however, children are not well behaved during the year, St. Nicholas only leaves a twig or a piece of coal!

Christmas In France

A Noël, nous décorons des sapins dans nos maisons. La veille de Noël, nous attendons patiemment que le père Noël dépose ses cadeaux aux pieds de nos sapins. Nous mangeons un grand repas qui se termine par la traditionnelle Bûche de Noël. Certains enfants veillent tard pour avoir leurs cadeaux une fois que le père Noël est parti, d'autres sont plus patients et attendent le lendemain matin. Plus tard dans l'année, le dimanche qui suit le nouvel an, nous mangeons la fameuse Galette des Rois en l'honneur des Rois Mages. Attention en la mangeant car une surprise se trouve à l'intérieur. Cette surprise c'est la fève ; quand vous l'avez vous êtes le roi de la journée mais il faut faire attention de ne pas l'avaler.

For Christmas, we decorate fir trees in our houses. On Christmas Eve, we patiently wait for Santa Claus to put his presents underneath our Christmas trees. We eat a big meal which ends with the traditional Yule Log. Some children stay up late to have their presents once Santa Claus has left. The others wait until the next morning to open them. Later in the year, the first Sunday which follows the New Year, we eat the Epiphany cake in honour of the Three Kings. Be careful when you eat it because there is a surprise inside. This surprise is a charm; when you find it you are the king for the day but pay attention to not swallow it!

Important Safety Message

Our partners who operate bus, rail and Metro services have asked us to remind West Midlands students to be extra cautious about leaving school bags on their services.

With the current nationwide threat level set at 'Severe' it is especially important for students to be mindful of lost property.

There have been a number of recently reported incidents of bags being left on public transport by students.

We do not wish to alarm your pupils but ask that you pass on our advice to make sure they take their property with them when leaving public transport services.

Due to the current sensitive climate we are in, an innocuous issue such as lost property can still have a negative effect on public perception of safety, traffic, services running punctually and of course Police time.

The Safer Travel Partnership is made up of West Midlands Police, British Transport Police, Centro and Transport Operators. The aim of the partnership is to assist in making public transport even safer.

To report incidents of a criminal nature, passengers can call West Midlands Police on 0845 113 5000 or in event of an emergency via 999.

Kind regards

Paula Shortland
